NEW ORDINANCE INTRODUCED CUTS OFF SALARY OF MAYOR.

NO PAY FOR THE EXECUTIVE
AFTER THE NEXT ELECTION.

ORDINANCE FIXING SALARIES
GIVEN FIRST AND SECOND
READINGS AT MEETING TUES-DAY EVENING.

After the next city election, February 8, 1911, the mayor of the city of Daytona will be compelled to serve without pay, if an ordinance presented at the meeting of the city council Tuesday night and given its first and second reading, is passed by the council at its next regular meeting.

This new ordinance was presented by the ordinance committee, according to instructions given at a previous meeting of the council, and establishes the salaries to be paid all city officers after the time of the next city election.

The new ordinance provides that the mayor shall serve without pay;
that the salary of the city clerk shall be $300 per year and 25 cents for each city license issued; that the salary of the city tax assessor shall be $300 per year; that the city tax collector shall receive 5 per cent on the first $2,000 collected, three per cent on the second $2,000 and one per cent on the balance of the collections; that the salary of the city attorney shall be $100 per year; that the salary of the city marshal shall be $720 per year; that the salary of the night policeman shall be $20 per month; that the salary of the city treasurer shall be $100 per year and that the salary of the city physician shall be $100 per year.

The ordinance was given its first reading and the second reading was given by title on motion of the council. The third reading will be given at the next meeting, and, if passed, the ordinance will become effective after the election February 8.

TERRIFIC STORM DEVASTATES
ONE OF THE CANARY GROUP
AND PEOPLE HAVE NO TIME TO MAKE ESCAPE.

MADRID, Dec. 28—Reports received here are that the island of Gomera, one of the Canary group, has been devastated by terrific tornado. The storm came almost without warning and the people had no opportunity to escape or protect themselves.

It is said hundreds have lost their lives in the storm and that scores of villages have been wrecked.

The island of Gomera is one of the most important of the Canary group, being 12 miles in length by five miles in width.

M. Paula fell 250 feet today shortly after leaving Issy on a round trip to Brussels. Both men were killed instantly.

It is believed some part of the monoplane either broke or refused to work properly and Laffon was unable to control the machine.

by a terrific explosion which has wrecked the greater part of the El Paso plant of the American company today. The plant is located five miles from the city.

Physicians, surgeons and other aid are rushing to the scene in automobiles. The plant is the second largest of its kind in the world and several hundred men were working in the plant at the time of the accident.

QUESTION IS OF EXPENSE OF BUILDING THE PLANT.

CHARTER OF DAYTONA PRE-VENTS INCURRING OF ANY DEBTS FOR MUNICIPAL IM-PROVEMENTS.

That a softening plant in addition to the city waterworks is really needed and almost a necessity to put the city water in condition for all practical uses and make the waterworks a better paying proposition is readily realized by the members of the city council, but the aldermen are facing the question of how this plant can be installed without creating an indebtedness for the city, which is strictly forbidden by the city charter.

That this is the exact status of affairs was brought out by a discussion of the matter at the meeting of the city council Tuesday evening. The discussion was caused by the reading of a petition from a large number of business men and prominent citizens of Daytona asking the city council to authorize the installation of a water softening plant in connection with the present waterworks system.

The members of the city council realize and fully appreciate the benefits which would be derived from the installation of such a plant, but the financial condition of the city at this time will not permit the addition and the city charter forbids the council or mayor to incur an indebtedness for municipal improvements without first submitting the question of whether such an indebtedness shall be incurred to a vote of the people.

In the discussion of the question
Major A. B. Foster, T. A. Snider, G.
B. Seaman, D. D. Rogers and Geo. A.
Main addressed the council, to explain what a benefit it would be to the city, especially to the water users, and explain something near what the cost of installing such an addition would amount to. If there is any way by which a sufficient amount of money for installing the softening plant can be raised without incurring the actual indebtedness plant will probably be installed, and the matter was placed in the hands of a special committee, composed of Aldermen Klock, Conrad and Smith to investigate.

A communication from San Francisco was read asking the council to write the Florida representatives in congress to vote for San Francisco as the best place in which to hold the big exposition to celebrate the opening of the Panama canal in 1915, and the communication was laid on the table. The communication stated that the city of San Francisco has already raised a total of $17,500,000 to pay for such an exposition and will not ask congress to appropriate a cent for such expenses, while New Orleans is asking the United States government to bear the expense of such an exposition.

A report was received from Tax Collector W. H. Edmondson showing the amount of money that has been collected from city licenses up to this time. This was in reply to an action taken by the council at its

By L. C. DEMAREE.
One of Daytona's crowning glories is her incomparable beach. No one who has ever set foot upon its smooth, packed sands; no one who ever pedaled a bicycle over its expanse; no one who ever drove a prancing pair of horses and listened to the popping of their steel shoes upon its asphaltum-like face; no one who ever steered a high-power automobile down the broad stretch of wave-washed and surf-packed sand but realized that it is a world beater, a world wonder. Go stand upon this wide speedway and see the happy souls fit by in joyous mood, and answer whether this is not one of the seven modern wonders.

The Placid, Pellucid Halifax River.
Where think you is water with more picturesque surroundings? Nearly a mile wide, fringed with tropical vegetation, artistic cottages with roomy verandas looking out upon her bosom gamey food fishes in countless numbers beckoning, as it were, to those with rod and reel; her bosom flecked with duck and coot and snowy-winged sea birds, which sit about as if for the sport of bobbing upon the waves; watch that lubberly old white headed pelican pouch a fat mullet, and that fish hawk struggling upward with his floundering load he snatched from the water.

See the beautiful launches, spick and span, with hampers and lockers bulging with refreshments, both solid and liquid, ready for a cruise upon the beautiful surface. Take out your field glass and sweep the river from Ormond bridge to Ponce Park light house, then say whether the Halifax isn't a thing of beauty and a joy forever, and one of the modern wonders.

The Enchantingly Picturesque Ridgewood.
Ridgewood avenue is upon the crest of a broad ridge, straight as the crow flies and the wide spreading branches of the heavy-trunked live oaks extend their giant arms across the magnificent vista, forming an arch, and from these extended arms great festoons of Spanish moss sway as the trade winds from the tropic seas fan them. Looking straight ahead down this white shell street one has the impression of a fairy path with elfin draperies, but as you move along and cast an eye first to the right and then to the left you see distinguished cottage homes in the most delightful settings.

See the glistening leaf of the grand magnolia which nature has varnished as no artist's brush ever could; and the cabbage palms with their burdens of showy fruit and swaying palms; see the lovely holly with its exquisite berry; see the climbing vines run riot in the trees; see the cryptogamous forms which gain a foothold on the great oaks and stately palms, and surely you will join in the chorus and say that this is a world wonder for beauty.

Surpassing Beauty of Our Cottage Homes.

No one of Daytona's attractions, perhaps, commands more nearly universal attention and praise than does the artistic cottages. The owners of these charming villas hail from every corner of the country and they bring their own architectural plans and build upon them, and as the architecture of one section of the country differs from the architecture of another so do our homes differ in outward appearance and structural beauty from one another. There are no monotonous rows of strikingly similar buildings but the eye, as it sweeps by, is treated to a kaleidoscopic change which keeps the mind wondering, "What next?"

It is not only the exterior of many of these homes which rivets attention; within they are models of convenience, and the finishing and furnishing give evidence of the elegance and cultivation of those who worked it all out. Indeed, it is the interior arrangement and artistic furnishing and shading, more than the exterior appearance that gives a surpassing charm to Daytona homes. This feature justly merits prominence as another wonder.

Streets and Pavements the Most and Best.

Why the Architect of the Universe chose to give Daytona the most admirable, the most picturesque natural setting of all the cities of the South is not revealed, but that such is a fact must be apparent to the most superficial observer. With such lavish wealth of natural beauty it became an easy thing for the hand of man to give the finishing touches which have wrought out the colors and outlines of the big picture.

Man did all this in the laying out of the streets with their wide margins of parkage. The entire city becomes a great park, with driveways intersecting, miles upon miles of driveways so good as to attract motorists from all over the continent.

And as for the pavements, pavements that look and act like granite—where else between the eastern and western seas are so many miles in proportion to inhabitants? The pavement question stands with the street as one of the chief drawing cards. Till some unheard of place reports more and better, Daytona throws down the gauntlet to the world.

Squirrels, Flowers, Birds and Fruit.
Whatever one's shortcomings and however indifferent or even callous one may be to many things, the mere mention of "flowers and squirrels, birds and fruits" will send a thrill that is reflected in distended pupils and pricked ears.

For every visitor with a spare goober there is a bunny ready to come and accept your gift. He will sit bolt upright and know into the meat, casting furtive, saucy glances at you meanwhile.

Flowers. Usually fresh and blooming the year 'round, you are reminded of Goldsmith's couplet where Smiling spring its earliest visit paid And summer's lingering blossoms are delayed.

In one yard roses of variegated hues predominate; another household has a penchant for the polkaeata and the premises are aflame; another is hidden in a jungle of tall cane. Variety is the spice of life and here is where you find it.

The birds flit in, and with their joyous notes help to give fullness and symmetry to the picture.

As for fruits, choicer citrus fruits, Daytona yields the palm to none for quality and quantity per acre. There are scores of citrus groves in proximity to the city, branches bending to the earth with their burdens of luscious golden globes, which for beauty, prolificacy and all desirable qualities would truly astonish you.

The Fastest Autos and The Finest Out.

The seventh world wonder, do you ask? Come, whether from Missouri or from Maine, from Kalamazoo or Timbuctoo, and you will be "shown." Here is where the world's record for speed is broken with every recurring season. Autos, the biggest, the fastest, and the finest are on daily parade and the big show is as free as the pure artesian water from the thousands of flowing wells. It is a continuous show with a constantly shifting scene.

Everything goes, from a 2-horse power up to a 200-horse power, and all degrees of speed from a canter to a two-mile-a-minute clip. You will probably catch the spirit, when you do the roads and the beach are yours. The Florida sunshine is free, the balmy ocean breezes are free, the birds and squirrels and flowers are free, the sparkling fountain water is free and you will have to go down into your wallet only for coin for auto, and bed and board.

This is no fanciful picture; it's all here. It is drawing other thousands and holding them enthralled, it will charm and hold you. Come and see.

True to Her Sex.
A certain militant suffragist in West Philadelphia has a seven-year-old daughter who has imbibed her mother's principles with regard to the intellectual efficiency of women.

In school the other day the teacher was telling the class something about hens.

"You can't teach a hen anything," she said. "You can teach a dog or a cat, but you can't teach a hen. There is nothing so stupid as a hen."

The suffragist's daughter threw her curly head back defiantly and contradicted the teacher then and there.

"That's not fair," she burst out, "and I don't think it's true. I guess a hen knows every bit as much as a rooster. So there."—Philadelphia Times.

DELAND, the county seat of Volusia County, is situated 23 miles southwest of Daytona and is reached from the latter city by an excellent hard-surfaced road recently constructed. At Deland is located the John A. Stetson University, one of the leading educational institutions of the South. Because of the interest in matters educational Deland is known as "The Athens of Florida." Stetson University has a faculty of 50 professors and instructors. There are over $400,000 in buildings and equipment; nearly $300,000 endowment; a Carnegie Library alone representing an investment in building, endowment and books, of more than $120,000. The library is the United States Government depository for the State of Florida, and contains over 15,000 volumes. Science Hall, one of the newest of 16 buildings, with its furnishings, represents an outlay of $250,000. Kimbath Hall is one of the most beautiful college buildings in the South.

The city has a population of about 1,500, with a thickly settled country adjacent. Deland proper is five miles east of the St. Johns River, on a high, rolling pine land of the great "Orange Ridge" of Florida. The predominant products are oranges and grapefruit, the estimated crop from this vicinity being over 30,000 tons this year. Apples, peaches, pears, Japan persimmons, plums, pines, guavas, strawberries and other fruits are grown in plenty.

In the way of public improvements there are many miles of fine shell roads, an excellent high school, electric lights, a system of waterworks that is owned and operated by the city, supplying the purest water at little cost. Nine houses of worship testify that Deland is a church-going community. Baptists, Episcopalians, Methodists (Northern and Southern), Presbyterians, Christians and Catholics, besides colored Baptists and Methodists, are represented. The graded school offers a ten years' course, and the building which it occupies is newly furnished throughout, and is one of the most commodious and best equipped public schools in the State.

The trip from Daytona to Deland is made by automobile in a little over an hour, and there are many pretty drives in the vicinity of the county site. A good road leads to DeLeon Springs, five miles, a historic spot, where 60,000 gallons of water bubble from the earth every minute.

From Deland automobiles go south to Osteen, 18 miles, on shell and marl roads; the St. Johns is crossed by ferry near Osteen and cars can then continue to Sanford and Orlando by hard road. There is a shell road from Deland to Orange City, five miles, and a good road from Deland to Lake Helen, a like distance.

LAKE HELEN
Surrounded by several pretty lakes and guarded by lofty pine trees is Lake Helen, a winter resort of no little importance. Camp Cassadaga, a spiritualistic camp-ground is situated near Lake Helen and at this place several hundred people make winter headquarters. A large lumber mill and the largest brick plant in the South are located at Lake Helen.

ORANGE CITY
The principal attraction around Orange City is the many handsome golden orange groves. The town is supplied with water said to be the purest in the world, another attraction to visitors. It is at Orange City that passengers over the Florida East Coast Ry. transfer to carriages and drive to Deland. The town is surrounded by land peculiarly adapted to the cultivation of citrus fruits.

The collection of the evening will be applied to the music fund of the church.

Life on a Battleship

To the landlubber one of the peculiar and oftentimes discomforting elements of life on a warship during target practice is the necessity for numerous baths. After each volley all the men on deck must take a bath. Sometimes there are four or five baths a day. This becomes quite monotonous. The Japanese inaugurated this practice. A bath is taken before and after shooting to guard against possible infection of open scratches and cuts from the flying powder. When the big guns go off the landsman on deck is thrown into consternation. A horrible, sickening wrench makes one feel as if each limb were separately grasped and pulled in various directions and it is a long time until he gets his "sea legs" again. Life aboard ship is not the ordeal that rumor has characterized it. The hardship legend is erroneous. The sailors are well fed with the best viands procurable, and their bread, far from being hardtack, is as good as that which is served in any high class hotel or restaurant. There is a spirit of good fellowship among the men, below decks. Each man has his separate duties definitely designated, and there are no petty jealousies. —W. W. Alden in Leslie's

A Woman's Letter.
Hailed as "the master of feminism," Marcel Prevost endeavors to make good his right to the title by the following bit of philosophy: "Is a woman's hat meant to cover her head? Is a woman's sunshade meant to shade her from the sun? Are a woman's shoes made for walking or her bejeweled watch meant to tell her the time? Why, then, should a woman's letter be meant to convey her real thoughts?"—Exchange.

The Heirloom.
"An heirloom," explained the farmer's wife to her thirteen-year-old boy, "is something that has been handed down from father to son and in some instances highly prized."
"I'd prize these heirlooms I'm wearing," remarked the youngster, "a good deal more if they wasn't so long in the legs."—Everybody's.

Thought For Others.
"You should endeavor to do something for the comfort of your fellow men," said the philanthropist, "without thought of reward." "I do. I buy umbrellas instead of borrowing them."—Exchange.

Hence the Rhinoceros Attacks Anything New to Him.

Sir Frederick Treves, the distinguished British surgeon, in his book "Uganda For a Holiday" has a word or two to say about the rhinoceros.

"The rhinoceros is the embodiment of blind conservatism," he writes. "Its hide is impenetrable, its vision is weak, while its intellect is weaker. It has, however, two marked qualities—combativeness and a sense of smell. It is aroused to its maximum energy by the presence of anything that is new. This object need not be a thing that is aggressive or inconvenient. Its offensiveness depends upon the fact that it is unfamiliar, and the more unfamiliar the object is the worse the rhinoceros acts."

"When a rhinoceros smells a man he will charge him with maniacal violence, although the man may be merely sitting on a stool reading Milton. The massive beast will dash at him like a torpedo or a runaway locomotive simply because the smell of him is novel. Actuated by this insane hate of whatever savors of an innovation, the rhinoceros has charged an iron water tank on the outskirts of a camp and has crumpled it up as a blacksmith would an empty meat tin."

"A conservative rhinoceros with a sensible dislike of anything new once charged a train on the Uganda railway, but with no more serious results than the tearing away of the footboard of a carriage. As regards the rhinoceros in this case, it appeared surprised that a thing composed, as it had imagined, of flesh and blood could be so hard. It went off with an additional grievance and an increased swelling of the head."

Very Obliging.
"Sir," tartly says the lady of uncertain age to the floorwalker, "is there any way of getting one of these salesmen to pay me some attention?"
"Well," says the floorwalker confidentially, "I'll introduce you to any one of them you fancy, but I'll tell you now that all of them have their 'steadies.'"—Judge.

An Amiable Man.
"Why do you argue with your wife? Don't you know it doesn't do you a bit of good?"
"Sure I do. But I ain't got such a mean disposition as to deprive her of the pleasure."—Cleveland Leader.

His Preference.
"Let me give you a pointer," the interlocutor said to the end man.
"Don't give me a pointer," replied the end man; "give me a fox terrier."—Chicago Tribune.

THE HESSIANS.

They Were Good Soldiers, and Some Became Good Americans.

There is a popular belief among some people that the Hessian mercenaries brought here by the British government to fight the Americans remained here after the war was over and that their descendants constitute a considerable element of the Pennsylvania Germans of today. Comparatively few remained here after the war, because the British government was under contract to return such as escaped the casualties of the war after it was over. The few that remained made good citizens, as they made the very best soldiers against the Americans, and whenever it was practical to do so they were put in the most responsible places by the British commanders.

The intense hatred at one time against the so-called Hessian soldiers, some of which still lingers with the present generation, is very unjust, because they did not volunteer to fight against the Americans, but they were forced into the British service by the impetuous German princes who sold them to the British like so many slaves. The Hessian soldiers would sometimes take a notion to desert, and they invariably found refuge among some of the German colonists. A considerable number of them were left behind from time to time on marches, on account of sickness or wounds. These always found a ready welcome among German settlers; few of them ever found the way back to their native land.—"Pennsylvania Germans," by William Beidelman.

Child Nature.

A child knows instinctively whether you are true or dishonest with it in thought as well as in deed. You cannot escape it. It may not always show its knowledge, but its judgment of you is unerring. Its life is stainless, open to receive all impressions, just as is the life of the plant, only far more pliant and responsive to influences. Upon the child before the age of ten we have an unparalleled opportunity for work, for nowhere else is there material so plastic.—Luther Burbank.

I never saw a purple cow

But I would rather see that sight
Than gaze on nine cent milk.
—Harper's Bazar.

"Are you never frightened when you make a flight?"
"I had one good scare," replied the businesslike aviator. "Some one told me the money they were putting up for the exhibition was counterfeit."—Washington Herald.

Mother's going to swear off cards.
Sis is going to swear off chewing Gum and stretching it for yards.
Brother Bill will swear off spending Every cent he makes for clothes.
I will have to swear off eating Pie and cookies, I suppose.
Everybody's resolving
Something good to do next year.
Home is going to be so lovely
I won't get much fun, I fear.
Things they like the best they're swear ing.
Off, and goodness only knows
What bad habit I must break off.
But it's cookies, I suppose.

Chastisement.

"What has become of that political leader who used to threaten us with all sorts of things if we didn't behave?" asked one voter.
"I don't know," replied the other. "I suspect he is giving us the silence discipline."—Washington Star.

The Quitter.

To drink no more I now resolve—
Except when I am dry—
And smoking, too, I shun, of course—
At least, that is, I'll try.
And flirring? Well, it's rather hard, But like cures like, they say,
And so to break myself I'll try The homeopathic way.
And spending money, too, I'll quit—
As soon as it's all gone—
That is, unless my watch will bring Ten dollars more in pawn.
—Bohemian.

last meeting, but this was not the kind of a report asked for. The report which the council seeks is the number and names of the business persons and places in the city who have not paid their city licenses, that the city marshal may be instructed to enforce the city ordinance in this respect.

In response to the published advertisement for bids on hauling shell from the city shell banks south of Port Orange five bids were received and read to the council by the city clerk. One bid was from T. O. Melton and I. Humphries for 90 cents per cubic yard. Another from C. A. Ballough gave a price of 88 cents per cubic yard if the city would use $4,000 worth the first year and at least $3,000 worth the second year. A bid from Robert Smith for 75 cents per cubic yard was submitted, provided the city will use at least 5,000 cubic feet the first year and 3,000 cubic feet the second year. One bid was from Fulton F. Smith for 85 cents per cubic yard if $4,000 worth of shell is used the first year and $2,500 worth the next year. A bid from Oscar Michael for 95 cents per cubic yard, hauled by team, was not considered.

J. M. Carson, J. L. Lynch and E. L. Bond were named as inspectors and Geo. F. Smith as clerk to serve at the coming election in February.

Judge R. G. Williams and wife, of Covington, Ky., are guests at The Ridgewood. Judge Williams is district attorney of the Sixteenth Judicial district of Kentucky and a personal friend and brother lawyer of Judge J. M. Tisdale, also of Covington, who owns a winter home on South Palmetto avenue, this city.

James Lees, although suddenly called upon, without preparation, made a most excellent Santa Claus. One of the features of the evening was the presentation by Dr. B. F. Marsh of a handsome bible to B. Foster, superintendent of the Sunday School, from the members of the school.
Messdames J. B. and E. C. Dunn were the managing committee for the entertainment.

At St. John's a man stowed away upon Harry Whitney's yacht, bound for an arctic hunting trip. He was discovered too late to return him to the little Newfoundland port, but Whitney determined to make him work his passage. He wasn't successful at this, however. The stowaway simply couldn't see any sort of work. Short of personal violence he couldn't be made to button his collar.
"By thunder," Whitney said one day. "I've a notion to leave you here at Etah." The stowaway seemed mournful.

"Bee-lieve muh, Mr. Whitney," he said emphatically, "you haven't made me so welcome on board your jiggered old yacht that I want to stay. But what could I do up here?" He swept his hand around at the Eskimo huts, half roof and the rest hole in the ground.
"What is your business, anyhow?" Whitney asked curiously.
"I," said the stowaway, "am a second story worker."—Cincinnati Times-Star.

A Pathetic Banquet.
Jacob A. Rills was discussing in New York his experience as a police reporter.
"They were intense experiences. The pathetic ones had, indeed, such an intensity that they couldn't be used in literature. They'd seem overdrawn. For example, one cold and dreary Thanksgiving evening as I passed a famous restaurant I saw a little urchin standing before the area. Through the area gratings the kitchen, brilliantly illuminated, could be seen. The cook, in his white dress, basted a half dozen great brown birds.
"Hi, Timmy," the urchin cried, and a second youngster turned toward him.
"Hi, Timmy, come an' eat yer crust in the smell from this here kitchen. It makes it taste just like roast turkey."—Detroit Free Press.

The Arab Steed.
An Arab steed of pure breed would probably be outpaced in a race by an English thoroughbred, but in other respects it outshines its western rival. It is so docile that it is treated by its owner as one of the family, and it has an iron constitution, for it sleeps out at night without covering or shelter. Nature protects the Arab horse with a thick, furry coat, which is never touched by brush or comb and which falls off at the approach of spring, when the body and legs, which had been shaggy as those of a bear, again resume their graceful beauty and glisten in the sun like polished marble.—London Chronicle.

CONGREGATIONAL SUNDAY

SCHOOL ENTERTAINMENT.

THE CANTATA, THE CROWNING OF CHRISTMAS, GIVEN AT THE CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH TUESDAY NIGHT.

A very pleasant entertainment, consisting of the Cantata, was given at the Congregational church Tuesday night by the Sunday school of that church. The crowning of Christmas in which the little folks all did remarkably well, was the significance of the entertainment.

The Valentine Song by Kathleen Stilling was especially good and the Crowning of Father Christmas by Bernice Johnson was very prettily done. Edna Wallace was also extremely good as chairman of a committee in the cantata.

The twin screw launch, Illinois, hailing from Eustis, tied up at the Halifax River Yacht Club wharf for a short time Tuesday morning. The Illinois was enroute to Miami and had on board her owner, Wm. B. Baker and his grandsons, R. N. and W. A. Baker, the first named acting as pilot and the second as engineer, with Seward Church as assistant engineer.

Warner C. Pence and daughter, Miss Ethel, who have been visiting Mr. Pence's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Pence at their winter home on South Palmetto avenue, departed this morning on their return to Springboro, Ohio.

PROGRESSIVE NEW SMYRNA

NEW SMYRNA is situated fifteen miles south of Daytona and is an ideal spot reached from Daytona by a hard surface road winding through one of the most picturesque parts of Florida.
With its ancient ruins dating back to a time when the history of man runneth not, interlaced with wires of the modern telegraph and telephone, its miles of shell streets as hard and smooth as a floor and overarched by hoary forest giants that grew in stately grandeur during the lapse of bygone centuries, New Smyrna is truly a place of romance and rest.

All nature here is very inviting to the tourist and pleasure-seeker. Here too is to be found the best fishing and hunting in the state of Florida.

The people are thrifty, the business men enterprising, and all unite in extending the welcome hand of hospitality to strangers. There are five church edifices for white people and an equal number for the colored population; the town has an excellent high school, a splendid public library, and up-to-date business houses.

There are any number of pretty homes for the permanent population, which numbers close to 2,000, and some very fine winter residences. There are good hotels and boarding houses where you can find accommodations to meet your requirements. Adjoining New Smyrna is as fine a section of vegetable land as can be found anywhere. This land has been divided into small farms which can be bought at reasonable prices. Some of the finest celery grown in the state is raised on this land. All other vegetables grow in abundance, and here, too, is the home of the famous Indian River oranges.

THE POSTOFFICE DEFICIT
AND WHAT HELPS IT ALONG.

SOME HABITS OF USERS OF THE MAILS WHICH GO TO TAKE UP
THE TIME OF MEN HANDLING
IT.

Apropos of the deficit in the Postoffice Department, the Silent Partner remarks that, after all, it is the people's own department and it seems to be their delight to abuse its privileges.

"They may persist," says the article referred to, "in using stationery of gray, yellow, green, red, blue and every other color that makes addresses almost impossible to read at night when most mail is handled."

"It is the people's department, so they have a right to deposit every year 11,000,000 pieces of mail to go to the dead letter office after carriers, clerks and experts have spent hours trying to decipher each address or hunting an address that did not exist."

"Since the postoffice belongs to the people they have a right as business men to save up their hundreds of letters to mail at the close of the day, so that an extra night force is needed in every big postoffice, and so that nine-tenths of the mail may be handled when it is twice as hard to work."

"As business men the people have a right to tie the packages so they will come unwrapped, to send all sorts of mail with insufficient postage, to send huge cards that will not fit the carrier's bag or the pigeon holes in the mail cars, or squeeze into the sacks."

"The people have a right to demand that mail be carried on fast trains from which the sacks must be kicked at high speed, but it is not incumbent upon the people to use heavy covers for catalogues of booklets so that they will stand the jar."

"But if the people have all these rights and take advantage of them the people must not kick if the department is costly or if some individualism think that the people's Government makes about the poorest showing as the administrator of a big business that can be made."

HALIFAX LODGE NO. 81,

F. & A. M., INSTALL OFFICERS.

NEWLY ELECTED OFFICERS IN-STALLED TUESDAY NIGHT,
DECEMBER 27, ST. JOHN'S DAY.

The night of Tuesday, December 27, St. John's Day, being a regular meeting time, the newly elected and appointed officers of Halifax Lodge, No. 81, F. & A. M., were duly installed, James Carnell, past grand master of Florida, acting as installing officer and H. T. McClellan, past master of Halifax Lodge filling the position of grand marshal.

The officers are as follows:

John W. Williams — Worshipful Master.
Jacob Espedahl — Senior Warden.
Oscar H. Baggett — Junior Warden.
F. T. Peck — Treasurer.
A. H. Carter — Secretary.
Charles Kost — Senior Deacon.
H. D. Gilmore — Junior Deacon.
H. T. McClellan — Senior Steward.
C. S. Harris — Junior Steward.
Miles Revels — Tyler.

The meeting was well attended and at its close a school of instruction was held and these practical meetings will be continued for the benefit of the newly elected officers and others desiring to learn the work.

ELKS MAY HOLD BAZAAR

SOMETIME NEXT MARCH.

MATTER DISCUSSED AT MEETING
TUESDAY EVENING AND ACTION
WILL BE TAKEN AT NEXT MEETING.

The Daytona lodge of Elks may hold a fair and bazaar some time during the month of March and if it is held it will be the biggest thing of the kind ever undertaken in the city of Daytona.

The idea of a fair was brought up at the regular meeting of the lodge Tuesday evening and informally discussed among the members and a decision reached for an investigation to be made during the time before the regular meeting next Tuesday evening, when it will be definitely decided whether the fair will be held.

The meeting of the Elks next week will be a hummer. It is expected that the plans for the new home will be adopted by that time, a number of candidates will be initiated and the lodge session will be followed by a social session and refreshments.

THIEF ENTERED HOUSE
ON MYRTLE AVENUE.

TOOK ADVANTAGE OF ABSENCE

ROOMS FOR VALUABLES —

The home of Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Hendrix, on Myrtle avenue, was entered by a sneak thief early Tuesday evening, but the man was frightened away by the return of Mrs. Hendrix and left without taking anything of value.

Mr. Hendrix is employed in the Church Drug Store and early in the evening Mrs. Hendrix and other members of the household left the house for a time. On their return, about 8:00 o'clock, Mrs. Hendrix' attention was attracted by a light burning in an upper room. She at first thought she had neglected to turn it out on leaving the house, but on going up stairs heard a commotion and a man jumped from a window on the east side of the house and fled through the back yard toward the Central Garage.

Upon investigation it was found that he had entered through a pantry window, gaining access to the kitchen. Here he lighted an oil lamp, in preference to using the electric light, and had turned his attention to a search for money and jewelry. He had selected several articles and had them together in a heap, ready for carrying off, when he was frightened away by Mrs. Hendrix' return, but failed to take them with him.

City Marshal A. P. Gore was at once notified of the occurrence, but the thief has not yet been apprehended.

HEAVY HOLIDAY BUSINESS

AT DAYTONA POSTOFFICE.

TRANSACTIONS WERE ABOUT 20 PER CENT. INCREASE OVER ANY PREVIOUS WEEK IN HIS-TORY OF THE OFFICE.

The business transacted at the Daytona postoffice during holiday week was the heaviest in the history of the local postoffice, exceeding any previous holiday week or single week since the postoffice was established here by 20 per cent.

The business of the local federal office has been growing continuously, but the holiday business was far beyond expectations and was handled under difficulties because of the cramped condition of the present postoffice building. The need of a larger and better arranged federal building in Daytona was strongly in evidence during the holiday rush.

SEABREEZE and DAYTONA BEACH, two enterprising and progressive towns on the Halifax Peninsula, are geographically one although incorporated as separate municipalities. The towns parallel the peninsula north and south for a distance of from three and one-half to four miles, and extend east and west from the varying seas of the Atlantic Ocean to the Halifax River, the beautiful tide water stream that sets them apart from Daytona with which they have close communion by means of three bridges, as well as a half-hour ferry service.

Seabreeze and Daytona Beach are essentially summer and winter resorts and are making hundreds of new friends every year among those who desire to escape the discomforting extremes of heat and cold, and their hotels and boarding houses are now receiving splendid patronage from the most discriminating class of tourists.

The ocean itself, with its marvelous beach, hard as macadam and smooth as a floor, is the greatest attraction, although earth, air and sky seem to have entered into a combination to enhance its every charm. The beach is the famous automobile race course where every world's straight-away record has been made, and all these records it continues to hold without rivalry.

The beach has a width of 300 to 500 feet and can be used from two hours after until two hours before high tide, thus giving an average of seven or eight hours for automobilizing some part of each day.

Seabreeze and Daytona Beach each have a permanent population of approximately 1500. Sanitary ordinances are strictly enforced, streets and sidewalks are well kept, and new streets are being opened as fast as the increasing population demands. Besides hotels and boarding houses there is ample cottage accommodation for all winter visitors in both towns.

All the attractiveness of Seabreeze applies to Daytona Beach, the two towns being so similarly situated. The development of Daytona Beach has been fully as phenomenal as its sister on the north, and each year there is a substantial growth. The great sand dunes have been leveled and handsome homes have been built for both winter and all-year-round occupancy.

WPS. LIKE MANY OTHER NATIONS, DESERTING LAND.

Growing Population Streaming Into Cities of Miya's Kingdom.

Japan, waving the flag of protection for its infant industries, has aligned itself with the manufacturing countries of the world.

"The government seems less jealous of Japan's classic reputation as the land of luxurious rice crops," writes an Englishman. "The people want and are getting a 'black country' to boast of. They want a Lancashire of their own. They threaten to become prouder of a forest of chimney stacks than of a forest of trees—to delight more in furnaces than in flowers."

The fact is that Japan is experiencing just now that streaming of the country population into her towns and cities. That thing which recently has been worrying Uncle Jim Hill and the rest of the United States in urban environment is promising a crisis for Japan in far shorter time. Japan's "increased cost of living," through desertion of the rice paddies and orchards for the lights and glimmers of her cities, is promising record time in arriving. These simple people of the agricultural sections, swarming to the cities, will encourage for a time the Japanese manufacturers because of the greater demand for those things which urban life demands.

"But who will feed them?" the Japanese government is asking seriously.

The population of Japan is 52,000,000, and 60 per cent of it still is in the rural districts. But the sign of land desertions is looming large. The new tariff for protection of manufactures distinctly. Raw materials are passed in duty free, partly manufactured goods have a light imposition of duty at her ports. But on completed manufactures there is the flat 40 per cent duty in which one reads the intent of the framers of the tariff.

This ambition and progress of Japan in manufacturing may be seen in her cotton mills and their output. There are 100 of these mills in operation, costing $30,000,000 in the aggregate. The output annually is 396,000,000 pounds of cotton yarns. In round figures these mills employ 16,000 males and 59,000 females, the average wage of the men standing at 21 cents a day, while the women folk average about 12 cents.

An additional feature in the rapid growth of the Japanese cities is the fact their birth rates are so little smaller than the birth rate in the rural districts. And yet the young man and young woman of the agricultural sections are chased away to the cities in alarming numbers. Sixty per cent of her people are on the farms today as against 15 per cent in Great Britain.

Two Hens Worth $22,000.

Eggs of Either Mother or Daughter Bring $25 Apiece.

Winner over all others of her breed, Lady Washington, a raven black Orpington hen, worth $12,000, has only one of her kind as a rival, her own daughter. Her offspring is worth $10,000. Whenever either chooses to do the commonplace thing of laying an egg that egg is worth $25.

Both chickens were on exhibition recently at a poultry show. Lady Washington arrived from her home at Factoryville, Pa., accompanied by two attendants, and occupied a specially constructed coop in a specially reserved compartment.

PUPILS ARE TOO NUMEROUS.

New York Has 2,424 in Two Blocks of School District.

The census taken by the New York department of education of children of school age in Manhattan shows that in the two blocks bounded by Madison, Cherry, Scammel and Jackson streets there are enough children to fill a school. The department found there 2,424 children of school age. In the block bounded by Madison, Monroe, Jackson and Scammel were 1,236 children and in the block to the east 1,188. These two blocks are the most congested not only in the city, but probably in the world.

Famous Models Being Collected.

The United States patent office is assembling the models of the first ideas along several lines of invention, such as the first telephone, first sewing machine and first phonograph.

Machine Sells Newspapers. A coin in the slot machine that a New Yorker has invented to sell newspapers is arranged to accommodate various sized papers and to accept various prices.

LIBERTY BELL

Its Connection With the Declaration of Independence.

The famous Liberty bell was cast in London in 1752, brought to America and subsequently recast in Philadelphia. It bears the inscription, "Proclaim Liberty Throughout the World and to All the Inhabitants Thereof." It was cracked while being tolled after the death of Chief Justice John Marshall in 1835. It is kept on exhibition in Independence hall, Philadelphia. It has had a fictitious importance owing to the popular belief that its ringing proclaimed the adoption of the Declaration of Independence on July 4, 1776. Concerning this belief, however, Friedenwald in his "Declaration of Independence" (1904) says:

"There is no shadow of authority even for associating the ringing of the bell with the announcement of the agreement upon independence. The mythical legend of the blue-eyed boy waiting outside the door to give the signal to the man in the bell tower is the product of the fertile imagination of one of Philadelphia's early romancers, George Lippard, who first gave currency to it in his appropriately called 'Legends of the Revolution.' This book was published in 1847."—New York American.

His Experience. "Jasper," said Mrs. Grigson, who was looking over the morning paper, "here's a story of a woman who was robbed on a street car in broad daylight, and yet the thief got away unsuspected."

Mr. Grigson said that he had seen the item, but that it was either a typographical error or else the story was pure invention.

"Why do you say that?" asked his wife.

"Look at the item again. It says her purse contained $100 in currency, does it not?"

"Yes."

"It says there was also a receipted bill for a five dollar hat, does it not?"

"Yes."

"Well, no woman with $100 in cash in her possession would buy a five dollar hat."—Youth's Companion.

His Serious Condition.

East Indian telegraphers have sometimes to deal with amusing messages. An intelligent sepoy once went into an office and handed in a message to be sent to a station in central India. Having read it, the operator told him there was something wrong. "No, sahib—no, sahib; me knows English," replied the native soldier haughtily.

The operator forwarded the message, which ran:

"Come quick. Father dangerously dead."

At the time of the war, the Liberty bell was in the hands of the British. It was then that the story of the blue-eyed boy waiting outside the door to give the signal to the man in the bell tower was first told. The story was told by George Lippard, an early romancer of Philadelphia, who first gave currency to it in his appropriately called 'Legends of the Revolution.' This book was published in 1847.

DREADNOUGHT OF AIR FOR BRITAIN

Biggest Dirigible Planned to Sail 100 Miles an Hour.

COST OF BUILDING $225,000.

Inventor Figures That 3,000 Horsepower Motors Would Send It 11,000 Miles at Twenty Mile Gait Carrying Quick Firing Guns, Wireless Outfit and Searchlights.

Plans for a dirigible which will travel at a hundred miles an hour and carry quick firing guns, searchlights, long range wireless equipment, telephographic apparatus and other up to date accessories for use in war have been made by E. Neale, a young English aviator, who is about to appeal for the sum of $225,000 to build the airship.

Mr. Neale has made a few good aeroplane flights in England, but he is not in the front rank of flying men.

Wants an Air Fleet.

His ambition is to have a fleet of these aerial cruisers, as he calls them, so as to give Great Britain command of the air and "place her in the forefront of aerial navigation instead of tamely following the lead of nations who now sell to England what they do not themselves require."

In this caustic comment, of course, he referred to the purchase of the French Lebaudy and Clement-Bayard airships.

The dirigible he contemplates would exceed in size and equipment anything that has yet been built. It would weigh 74,286 pounds, of which 36,000 pounds would be taken up with the petrol required. The motors would develop 3,000 horsepower, and there would be eleven eighteen-foot propellers. The gas would be warmed by passing cooling water through radiators inside the envelope.

Wide Travel Range.

At the maximum speed of 100 miles an hour the dirigible would have a travel range of 2,000 miles and at a cruising speed of twenty miles an hour 10,940 miles.

He has carried out a number of scientific experiments, and he is prepared to submit his design and data to a committee of experts. He is likely, however, to wait a long time before he gets the necessary amount to build even one such dirigible.

The British war office is extending the balloon establishment at Farnborough, near Aldershot, with a view to a big development in aviation matters. Early next year definite types for airships and aeroplane construction will be fixed. It is believed that the future, so far as the dirigible is concerned, lies with an airship in which high and sustained speed is combined with a small surface. Vessels of great bulk would be too conspicuous targets for artillery.

Speedy Scout the Ideal.

A fast aerial scout which can carry a machine gun and have a lifting capacity of about two tons is regarded as the ideal vessel for war purposes. To test this view a comparison will be made within the next few months of the small dirigibles Delta, Beta and Gamma with the two French airships recently acquired by the British war office.

Purchases are being made of samples of most types of aeroplanes by the British government in order to facilitate the experimental work which has been started at Durrington. Officers of the army, no matter to which branch they belong, are being invited to join the air corps which is to form the nucleus of the aeroplane instructional staff.

The factory will make all the aeroplanes required once a British army type has been evolved.

POWDER GOOD IN PLOWING.

New Mexicans Experiment With Breaking Tough Adobe Soil.

It doesn't take long to tear an acre to pieces with the powder system now being used in adobe lands. A demonstration a few days ago on the New Mexico college farm showed how thoroughly the ground was broken up. Whether the process is to be successful is still to be proved.

E. R. Angast has charge of the work now being done. In ground to be used for an orchard Mr. Angast had holes bored—106 to the acre—fifteen feet apart. The charges put into these were connected with wires. Three rows, about twelve or fifteen charges, were fired at one time.

The tough adobe was cracked from hole to hole. Large pieces rose twenty-five or thirty feet into the air. The ground was in fairly good condition to plow, but it will be even better after frost has laid its softening influence upon it.

It costs about $15 an acre for the powder and possibly $2.50 or $2.75 for the labor.

His Critic.

"The greatest compliment that I ever received," says Opie Read, "was a criticism. Several years ago I went to Arkansas and visited the scene where one of my stories is laid. The landlord of the little hotel said to me:

"Here comes a little old fellow to whom I loaned a copy of your book. He can't read, but his wife reads to him. Let's see what he says about the book."

"Hello, Jason, did your wife read that book to you?"

"Mawmin', sah. Yes, she done read it to me."

"Well, what do you think of it?"

"Huh? That ain't no book at all. I done lived hear fo' fo'ty years an' I done hearn folks talk that a-way all th' time."—Cincinnati Inquirer.

Love and the Laundry.

"The only thing I find to say against you is that your washing bill is far too extravagant. Last week you had six blouses in the wash. Why, Jane, my own daughter never sends more than two."

"Ah, that may be, mum," replied Jane, "but I 'ave to! Your daughter's sweetheart is a bank clerk, while my young man is a chimney sweep. It makes a difference, mum."—London Tit-Bits.

CARNEGIE PEACE FUND NOT FOR WAR OF WORDS ON WAR

IT is a little difficult for the mind not given to contemplation of the problem of abolishing war, which has so much interested Andrew Carnegie, to see just how $500,000 a year income from his $10,000,000 peace endowment fund can be spent advantageously in the line of work laid out. The impression is that the fund is bound to grow rapidly and steadily, and there is not much disposition in congress to provide a charter for such a fund when there are no more limitations upon its use than in Mr. Carnegie's deed of gift.

No definite plans for the employment of the resources of the foundation have been formulated by Mr. Carnegie, and as far as the trustees are concerned few of them have thought of the matter sufficiently to be prepared with any specific ideas.

James Brown Scott, former solicitor of the state department, the secretary of the foundation, who has devoted a great deal of time and study to ways and methods of promoting international peace, thinks that the work of the foundation would be first to make a scientific study "in the effort to find the method of eradicating the cause of war." He also states that there is no intention on the part of the trustees of "making a wordy war on war." They want to do something practical.

The only one of the trustees who has in mind a definite line of procedure is Oscar S. Straus, ex-secretary of commerce and labor and ambassador to Turkey. Mr. Straus has also devoted much time to the problem of securing international peace and has written ident Taft's platform, who said in his address before the Peace and Arbitration society in New York March 22, 1910:

"I have noticed exceptions in our arbitration treaties as to reference of questions of national honor to courts of arbitration. Personally I do not see any more reason why matters of national honor should not be referred to a court of arbitration than matters of property or of national proprietorship. I know that is going, but I do not see why questions of honor may not be submitted to a tribunal composed of men of honor, who understand questions of national honor, to abide by their decision, as well as any other questions of difference arising between nations.

"I venture to quote from my address as president of the peace congress in New York 1907:

"Honor is the most dishonored word in our language. No man ever touched another's man's honor; no nation ever dishonored another nation; all honor's wounds are self-inflicted."

"The judge who presides over a cause in which he is interested dies in infamy if discovered. The citizen who constitutes himself a judge in his own cause as against his fellow citizen and presumes to attack him is a lawbreaker and as such disgraced. So should a nation be held as disgraced which insists upon sitting in judgment in its own cause in case of an international dispute.

"When civilized nations enter into such treaties as named or war is discarded as disgraceful to civilized men, as personal war (dueling) and man selling and buying (slavery) have been discarded within the wide boundaries ten in advocacy of the plan of forbidding subscriptions to war loans for foreign nations.

"There is one decidedly practical line of action which may be entered upon at once," said Mr. Straus. "It is to make a scientific study of the cost of war. This has never been done, at least in such fashion that the result was authoritative and practical. I mean a study that will show the economic effect of war not only upon the countries engaged in any particular war, but upon other countries as well. It will be found, I am sure, that war always costs very much more than it produces by way of benefit, even to the victorious nation."

"For instance, we are spending today two-thirds of our revenue on account of wars past or to come. Our expenditures for this account alone have been and are enormous, and where is the return? What is the value of that return if there is any? These are questions that may be determined now in practical fashion for the first time. A general balance sheet with war may be shown to the world. The effect of it is certain to be profound, for it can be demonstrated to every nation that no matter what the object for which war is made it might be accomplished in some better and more economic way."

Calling attention to the last great war, that between Japan and Russia, Mr. Straus said that another practical matter to which the Carnegie foundation might turn its attention would be the study of such problems as that conflict involved. In that case the great economic problem of the press of population in Japan was the underlying cause of greatest potency in the attitude taken by Japan. The Carnegie foundation, in the opinion of Mr. Straus, may well devote its attention to the study and consideration of ways and means of avoiding the resort to war for the settlement of such problems.

In laying the proposition before the men he chose as trustees the famous ironmaster said in part:

"Although we no longer eat our fellow men or torture prisoners or sack cities, killing their inhabitants, we still kill each other in war like barbarians. Only wild beasts are excusable for doing that in this the twentieth century of the Christian era, for the crime of war is inherent, since it decides not in favor of the right, but always of the strong. The nation is criminal which refuses arbitration and drives its adversary to a tribunal which knows nothing of righteous judgment."

"I believe that the shortest and easiest path to peace lies in adopting Free-of our English speaking race, the trustees will please then consider what is the next most degrading remaining evil or evils whose banishment—or what new elevating element or elements if introduced or fostered, or both combined—would most advance the progress, elevation and happiness of man, and so on from century to century without end, my trustees of each age shall determine how they can best aid man in the upward march to higher and higher stages of development unceasingly, for now we know that as a law of his being man was created with the desire and capacity for improvement to which, perchance, there may be no limit short of perfection even here in this life upon earth.

"Let my trustees therefore ask themselves from time to time, from age to age, how they can best help man in his glorious ascent onward and upward and to this end devote this fund."

DUSTLESS TAILS ON COWS.

Careful Milkman Sprays Appendages With Pure Water.

In his spick and span deodorized and disinfected barn near Montclair, N. J., the owner of a large dairy was horrified a few days ago on realizing that dust actually was in the place. A gleam of sunlight through a knothole shone on the floating dust particles.

Thereupon the dairy owner gave orders that before milking time the tail of every cow was to be sprayed with filtered water from an atomizer. Now when the cows swing their tails while milking is under way there is no likelihood of their switching contaminating dust into the pails.

Alex Harrison is spending the week with his family at Hawks Park, having gone down to that place Saturday night.

Geo. P. Graham, of Leomenster, Mass., has rented through the Edmondson & Donnelly agency, a part of the J. W. Bethel house on Second avenue, and will occupy it with his family and some friends.

Mr. Killian, of Atlanta, Ga., who had been the guest of Mrs. Geo. F. Brown and daughter, of North Ridgewood avenue for several days, departed Monday afternoon on his return to Atlanta.

Dr. F. H. Houghton's friends are pleased to see him again able to be around. The doctor's recent severe illness left him very weak and until the last day or two has not felt equal to getting out of the house since his return.

Mrs. Wm. Riddell and daughter, of Binghamton, N. Y., are spending the winter with Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Bradford, at their winter home on Fairview avenue, having arrived last Saturday. Mrs. Riddell is Mrs. Bradford's sister.

FIGHT ENDS CELEBRATION OF BIRTHDAY.

TWO OF MEN ARE KILLED; TWO CHILDREN WOUNDED.

ONE MAN JAILED ON CHARGE OF MURDER AS THE RESULT OF A REVOLVER BATTLE IN KENTUCKY.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Dec. 28.—Two men are dead, two children are dangerously wounded and one man has been placed in jail on a charge of murder as the result of a revolver battle in the Big Hill mining district in Bell county last night.

William and Andrew Patterson are the names of the men killed and the two children of Rodney Robinson are badly wounded.

A birthday celebration was going on when Marcus Graham attempted to eject two of the people at the celebration. They resisted his attempts to put them out of the building and Graham drew a gun. Then the fight started and ended in a free-for-all.

L. F. Steere, who owns a winter home on North Beach street, arrived recently from Cooperstown, N. Y. Mrs. Steere did not accompany him.

Geo. H. Foote, Jr., and Will Conrad returned this morning from DeLand in Mr. Foote's Hupmobile. They drove over to the county seat yesterday.

A sister of Miss Laura Franklin is visiting her at the Shoemaker residence on Third avenue during the holiday vacation, having arrived Tuesday night from Gainesville. Miss Franklin is also a school teacher.

Charles Clark and family and a friend, Miss Margaret Vande Vere arrived recently from Chicago, Ill., and are located for the season at The Astoria on Bay street. Mrs. Clark is a cousin of Mrs. C. H. Abbott, who owns a home adjoining The Astoria.

CONTEST BOARD OF THE A. A. A. MEETS AT NOON AND APPLICATION MUST BE MADE AT ONCE.

The question of whether Daytona is to have the big automobile race meet next spring or whether the meet is to go to Jacksonville will be definitely decided tomorrow.

The local committee of enthusiasts, who have been endeavoring to raise a sufficient amount of money to finance such a meet here, are finishing up the preliminary work today and the amount of money raised now will determine whether formal application for sanction for the meet to be held here will be applied for. When the committees started out this morning the subscriptions already pledged amounted to about $3,000. The plan for the day was to boost this amount to at least $4,000 by night and if this amount is subscribed sanction for the race meet will be asked for. In the meantime, between this time and the time of holding the meet, it will be necessary to raise the balance of the $6,500 necessary to finance the events.

The contest board of the American Automobile Association holds its meeting in New York at noon tomorrow. The Jacksonville enthusiasts have already applied for sanction for the dates of the last week in March and it will be positively necessary for the Florida East Coast Automobile Association to make application before noon. If application for the same dates is made by the Daytona club it will be up to the contest board to decide between the two cities and it is believed the meet here will receive the sanction because the beach is so well known and because the manufacturers and drivers are anxious to come to Daytona to beat the world's records now held here.

The members of the soliciting committees will endeavor to see that no persons are overlooked in the canvass today, but reserve subscription lists have been left at the Conrad-Oates real estate office and at the Automobile club house, where any persons may enter their subscriptions.

More than 20 cars, some of the fastest in the world, have been promised as entries and if the meet is held here next spring it will be the biggest beach racing yet ever held.
